BEN Stiller's daughter, Ella, 11, is following in his footsteps as "a really good little filmmaker. She makes movies on her iPhone," he told us at a Cinema Society-Brooks Brothers screening of "Walter Mitty." "It's insane to me what she does . . . a lot of music videos on that Video Star app are just incredibly sophisticated." Stiller also seemed anxious about her reaction to his directorial effort. "She is definitely a discerning filmgoer . . . I'm excited for her feedback. She's tough." His co-star Kristen Wiig was talking excitedly to ex-"Real Housewife" Kelly Bensimon, but later was heard saying, "I don't know her. I thought I did, but I just recognized her from TV." Guests Colin Quinn, stylist June Ambrose, fotog Bob Gruen, Matt Harvey and Anne V later headed to a Skylark after-party.
