

Juice Junkies By Vanessa Grigoriadis p.38

/ Soylent Borgs By Adrian Chen, p.44

● For Tribeca moms and boy hackers, post-eating crazes.

Also: Winter Travel: Bordeaux Instead of Paris, Plus Other Alterna-Cities, Ski Towns, Beaches p.64

+ Sandy's Perpetual Homeless p.9 / Sky Ferreira Slays the Hate p.34 / Knicks-Nets Suicide Rivalry p.20

NEW YORK

NOVEMBER 4, 2013

Meet The DeBLASIOS

Their holiday card is going to be great. Then what?

By CHRIS SMITH

44
0 71658 01912 6
NYMAG.COM

$5.99 USA/CANADA

FOOD/OPENINGS

The Skylark

200 W. 39th St., at Seventh Ave.
212-257-4577

THE ROOFTOP-BAR season needn't end after Labor Day (or, in Indian summers like this, Columbus Day). A new cocktail lounge has been installed atop a 30-floor garment-center building that's home to labels like Carmen Marc Valvo and Max Mara—partly in hopes of giving fashion-industry folks a place to unwind in their not-so-fashionable neighborhood and partly to function as an events space for Abigail Kirsch, the catering company that's teamed up with building owner Savitt Partners and nightlife veteran David Rabin. Eighteen-dollar cocktails come courtesy of mixologist-about-town Johnny Swet, and chef Cassandra Quinlan-Ashford accompanies them with small plates like wasabi-wild-salmon jicama wraps and mac-'n'-cheese cupcakes. Open weekdays only; enter through the loading dock.

